

intangiblestyle is Matthew Babbs, a dedicated, enthusiastic web developer located in Carmarthenshire, Wales. He builds websites and web applications for small businesses and organisations.

Matthew builds websites that work. From start to finish, they're created to look good and work great—and they're priced affordably for small businesses and organisations, too.

- Websites that work, creating great results for you and your users
- Clean, usable designs that help people get things done
- Search engines love the well optimised, accessible code
- Green web hosting on fast, energy-efficient, carbon-neutral servers

Websites from intangiblestyle have a rather different focus to what you may be used to, centered on objectives and content rather than design. They're websites that aim to provide people with the information they need and earn their living through great content rather than flashy design. They're websites that persuade people to buy your product, whether it's widgets, services or anything else.

These are the core services from intangiblestyle:

- All-new website or web application: if you want a new design with all the advantages of websites that work, built in from the ground up.
- Website makeover: if you don't need a complete rebuild, but want to improve success rates with a new design, revised focus and better usability.
- Code for your design: if you have a design mockup and want to get a findability and performance boost with top-quality handcrafted code.

Interested? Find out more (and get started on a website that works) at <http://intangiblestyle.com>, or get in touch by email at matthew@intangiblestyle.com.